ONALASKA PHYSICIAN'S WEIGHT LOSS CENTER SPONSORING SANTA'S LIST

It may be February but the Christmas spirit is alive and well in Onalaska as the Onalaska Physician's WEIGHT LOSS Center presented a check for $150.00 in support of the Onalaska Police and Fire Departments' Santa's List program. The Onalaska Officers and Fire Fighters involved in the Santa's List program work with area schools to find families that could use a little help making Christmas happen for their children but that's not all it does.

"Santa's List is very much a year-long program," said Onalaska Chief of Police Jeffrey Trotnic, "if one of the Officers or Firefighters sees a situation where there's a need Santa's List steps in. One year there was a house fire where the family lost almost everything. Santa's List bought toys for the kids. We can't make everything better but we can return a little normalcy for the children."

When the staff of the Onalaska Physician's WEIGHT LOSS Center heard about the program they wanted to get involved.

ten years," said Shanna M. Tremain, Diet Consultant & Educator for the Onalaska Physician's WEIGHT LOSS Center, "We are pleased to announce with the help of our generous clients we were able to raise $150 to go to Santa's List, a charitable program put on by the Onalaska Police and Fire Departments. We thank our clients for contributing to the donation by purchasing special cookbooks throughout the recent holiday season. To our clients, we appreciate your support greatly and as a business we are very proud to be members of the Onalaska community and support this wonderful year-long cause."
